Such forward-looking statements include, among others, statements with respect to our beliefs, plans, expectations, estimates and intentions. The use of the expressions "foresee", "intend", "anticipate", "estimate", "assume", "believe" and "expect" and other similar terms and expressions indicate forward-looking statements.

By their very nature, forward-looking statements imply the use of assumptions and necessarily involve inherent risks and uncertainties. A number of factors could cause future results, conditions or events to differ materially from the objectives, expectations, estimates or intentions expressed in such forward-looking statements. Such differences might be caused by several factors, including changes in Canadian and worldwide economic and financial conditions (in particular interest and exchange rates and the prices of other financial instruments), market trends, new regulatory provisions, competition, changes in technology and the potential impact of conflicts and other international events.

The foregoing list of factors is not exhaustive. Before making any investment decision, investors and others relying on our forward-looking statements should carefully consider the foregoing factors and other factors. We caution readers not to rely unduly on these forward-looking statements. We assume no obligation to update forward-looking statements in the light of new information, future events or other circumstances unless applicable legislation so provides.

Management Discussion of Fund Performance

Results of Operations

For the six-month period ended June 30, 2026, the NBI Sustainable Canadian Corporate Bond ETF's units returned 1.99% compared to 2.23% for the ETF's benchmark, the FTSE Canada All Corporate Bond Index. Unlike the benchmark, the ETF's performance is calculated after fees and expenses. Please see the Past Performance section for the ETF's returns, which may vary mainly because of fees and expenses.

The ETF's net asset value dropped by 1.1% over the period, from $157.34 million as at December 31, 2025 to $155.67 million as at June 30, 2026.

In the first half of 2026, the yield curve flattened, with short-term rates rising and long-term rates falling. For example, two-year maturity rates increased by 0.16% and 30-year maturity rates decreased by 0.08%. On the sector side, credit spreads remained broadly stable, with a slight widening for short-dated corporate bonds and a slight narrowing for long-dated provinces.

All in all, this resulted in a positive return of 2.24% for the FTSE Canada Universe Bond Index.

In this context, the Fund underperformed its benchmark.

The main contributors were as follows: Duration (0.01%), Curve (0.03%), Sector (0.00%), Security selection (0.02%).

Recent Developments

During the first half of 2026, the duration of the NSCC fund remained similar to that of the benchmark. The fund remains overweight 5-year and 30-year maturity bonds, but underweight 2-year and 10-year maturities. The overweight to provincial bonds remains at a similar level of +0.16 years of dollar duration relative to the index, and a slight exposure to federal bonds remains in place. Since the benchmark is composed entirely of corporate bonds, this contributes to the underweight to this sector, which stood at -0.23 years of dollar duration at year-end. The portfolio remains significantly underweight in the energy industry and overweight the infrastructure, communications and financial services industries.

As at June 30, 2026, impact bonds (green, social and sustainable) in the portfolio decreased from 38.4% to 35.5% of total market value. The portfolio benefited from the addition of new green bond issues.

TD Bank completed its sixth green bond issue, for an amount of $1.5 billion, to finance eligible environmental projects.

In addition, a new issuer came to market. Projet REM, whose bonds total $1.85 billion, is intended to finance the construction of the Réseau express métropolitain (REM).

Our engagement activities focus both on systemic issues — including climate, biodiversity loss and reconciliation with Indigenous Peoples — and on issuer-specific issues, such as adopting best practices for impact bonds (green, social and sustainable), improving the completeness of disclosed ESG information, and enhancing ESG ratings.

These activities are intended, in particular, to support the development and quality of the supply of impact bonds in the Canadian bond market, as well as to improve issuers' ESG practices, both in terms of ESG performance and the completeness of disclosed ESG information. Issuer awareness resulting from our engagement activities therefore supports the portfolio's ESG objectives. Moreover, despite the current environment, marked by regulatory and market changes (e.g., Bill C-59), issuers' ESG disclosure has generally improved in recent years.

The Fund has adhered to its ESG strategy as disclosed in the prospectus. During the period, there were no material divestments of portfolio securities as a result of the Fund's ESG strategy or applicable sustainable exclusions.

On April 30, 2026, Norman Turnbull resigned as member and President of the ETF's independent review committee (the "IRC"). On May 1, 2026, Yanic Chagnon was appointed IRC member and Marie Desroches was appointed as President of the IRC.

Past Performance

The performance of the ETF, presented below and calculated as at December 31 of each year, is based on the net asset value of the ETF. It assumes that all distributions made in the periods shown were reinvested in additional units of the ETF. These returns do not take into account sales, redemption charges, distributions, or optional charges that would have reduced returns. Past performance of an ETF does not necessarily indicate how it will perform in the future.

The bar chart indicates the performance of the ETF for each of the years shown and illustrates how the performance has changed from year to year. It shows, in percentage terms, how much an investment made on January 1 (or made commencing from the start of the ETF) would have grown or decreased by December 31 of that year, in the case of the Annual management report of fund performance, or by June 30, in the case of the Interim management report of fund performance.

[1] This information is derived from the ETF's Annual Audited Financial Statements and Interim Unaudited Financial Statements. The net assets per unit presented in the financial statements might differ from the net asset value calculated for ETF pricing purposes. The differences are explained in the notes to the financial statements.

[2] The net assets are calculated in accordance with IFRS.

[3] Net assets and distributions are based on the actual number of units outstanding at the relevant time. The increase or decrease from operations is based on the average number of units outstanding over the accounting period.

[4] Distributions were paid in cash or reinvested in additional units of the ETF, or both.

[5] This information is provided as at the last day of the accounting period shown.

[6] Management expense ratio is based on total expenses including sales taxes for the accounting period indicated (excluding commission, other portfolio transaction costs and withholding taxes) and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net value during the accounting period. The management expense ratio includes, if necessary, the management expenses from its underlying funds, as described in Article 15.2 of Regulation 81-106.

[7] The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the accounting period. The trading expense ratio includes, if necessary, the trading expenses from its underlying funds, as described in Article 15.2 of Regulation 81-106.

[8] The ETF's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the ETF portfolio's manager manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the ETF buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the accounting period. The higher an ETF's portfolio turnover rate in an accounting period, the greater the trading costs payable by the ETF in the accounting period, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the accounting period. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and the performance of an ETF.
