Management Discussion of Fund Performance

Investment Objective and Strategies

The NBI Global Real Assets Income Fund's investment objective is to generate income and long-term capital growth while focusing on hedging against inflation.

The portfolio manager applies a bottom-up approach based on a disciplined valuation of high quality companies, while providing geographic diversification. This approach aims to achieve a balance between high income and opportunities for growth.

Risks

The global investment risk of the Fund remains as described in the simplified prospectus or any amendments thereto and Fund Facts.

Results of Operations

For the twelve-month period ended December 31, 2022, the NBI Global Real Assets Income Fund's Investor Series units returned -2.64% compared to 7.08% for the Fund's benchmark, the S&P Global Infrastructure Index (CAD). Unlike the benchmark, the Fund's performance is calculated after fees and expenses. Please see the Past Performance section for the returns of all of the Fund's series, which may vary mainly because of fees and expenses.

Certain series of the Fund, as applicable, may make distributions at a rate determined by the manager. This rate may change from time to time. If the aggregate amount of distributions in such series exceeds the portion of net income and net realized capital gains allocated to such series, the excess will constitute a return of capital. The manager does not believe that the return of capital distributions made by such series of the Fund have a meaningful impact on the Fund's ability to implement its investment strategy or to fulfill its investment objective.

The Fund's net asset value dropped by 19.11% over the period, from $1.328 billion as at December 31, 2021 to $1.074 billion as at December 31, 2022. The decline stemmed mainly from net redemptions by unitholders of the Fund.

Equity markets ended a rollercoaster year in negative territory amid an increasingly challenging landscape for the capital markets. The Russia/Ukraine war exacerbated investors' worries that were already high owing to decades-high inflation and central bank tightening. Bond and equity markets posted losses, while commodities benefited from surging energy prices. Among major benchmarks, the Standard & Poor's (S&P) 500® Index dropped 18.11%, the MSCI EAFE Index, a measure of non-US developed markets, slid 14.45%, while the MSCI Emerging Markets Index fell 19.74%.

In the US, stocks ended their worst year since 2008. Increasing inflationary pressures proved to be non-transitory, pushing the Federal Reserve (Fed) to begin aggressively tightening monetary policy in March. The federal-funds rate, set at a target range of 0.00% to 0.25% in early January, was raised several times throughout the year, ultimately closing out 2022 at 4.25% to 4.50%. While rate hikes dampened market sentiment, Fed Chair Jerome Powell's accompanying comments often drove stock market highs and lows. The housing market lagged in 2022, as data from home sale prices to building permits slowed, largely in response to rising mortgage rates. While inflation showed signs of decelerating, unemployment remained historically low, perplexing policymakers. US Treasury securities suffered steep losses; yields rise as bond prices fall, and the 10-year Treasury note yield climbed sharply in 2022, beginning the year at 1.496% and ending at 3.833%. Meanwhile, recession fears pushed the US dollar higher, wrapping up 2022 with its biggest rally in several years.

Developed markets also experienced losses for the year, although the United Kingdom was able to eke out a positive return. The impact of the Russia/Ukraine War, combined with decades-high inflation, pressured the European Central Bank to begin raising rates for the first time in over 10 years. In the UK, political woes added to the strife, as its new government's attempt to shore up the economy and curb 40-year high inflation with tax cuts backfired, inciting a near collapse of the British pound sterling and requiring central bank intervention.

These economic plans were led by Liz Truss, who promptly resigned as prime minister and was replaced by Rishi Sunak. While Japan spent much of the year maintaining a dovish stance, the end of December saw policymakers altering its bond yield control, which should allow its long-term interest rates to continue rising.

Emerging markets dropped for the full year in the wake of tightening monetary policy and a surging US dollar. As with their developedmarket peers, central banks in emerging-market countries also raised rates in an effort to control inflation. China's zero-Covid policy had lingering effects on the world's second-largest economy, prompting its central bank to trim key rates in August to invigorate credit demand. The Caixin PMI—China's official manufacturing purchasing managers' index and a measure of China's smaller, export-oriented companies—fell during the year, dropping from 50.9 in December 2021 to 49.0 in December 2022; any reading above 50 signals an expansion and below 50 denotes a contraction. Meanwhile, neighbouring India was one of the better-performing markets in 2022. The Russia/Ukraine war and resulting sanctions had an immediate effect on the Russian economy. The Russian ruble traded at a record low of 150 to the US dollar in March, rallied to a seven-year high of 50 by June, and then depreciated past 70 in December, as lower energy prices weighed on exports. Brazil's rate hikes pushed the Brazilian real up more than 6% since the beginning of 2022, eliciting an upbeat growth outlook. The Brazilian central bank started its tightening cycle much earlier than its developed-market peers.

Commodities gained in 2022, although oil and natural gas gave back gains toward the end of the year. The Russia/Ukraine war pushed oil prices over $100 per barrel, before prices began steadily declining as higher energy costs threatened economic growth and increased recession fears. After a notable rally, gold prices ended the year lower, while silver prices advanced. The Dow Jones Commodity Index soared 20.63% in 2022.

Under these circumstances, the Fund underperformed its benchmark.

Relative to the S&P Global Infrastructure Index, Utilities, Energy and Industrials were positive for performance, while Communication Services and Real Estate weighed on period results.

From a sector perspective, Energy was the top performer over the period, thanks to beneficial stock selection within the sector. Portfolio holdings OKEOK Inc. and Antero Midstream Corp. outperformed over the period with the rest of the energy sector as crude oil rallied off of OPEC announcing supply cuts of 2 million barrels per day with the objective of stabilizing prices around $90 per barrel which is proving effective.

The portfolio's weight in the Industrials sector was a positive contributor over the period. Holdings in French concession business VINCI SA performed well over the period, while a zero weight to several names within the index created a headwind for the sector over the period.

The portfolio's weight in the out of benchmark Real Estate sector led relative detractors over the period, largely due to weak performance in Medical Properties Trust, Inc. There was some good news over the period when their largest tenant received a one-year extension of its ABL credit facility, an overhang for the stock, but this was quickly followed by news that S&P was placing its debt on credit watch.

Utilities also detracted over the period, as the divergence between US utilities (which the fund is underweight) and European utilities (which the fund is overweight) continued. As we head into the start of the winter season, investors expressed concern for what price caps in colder months could mean for these businesses. That fear was most pronounced in the UK. We have seen commentary from the new government in the UK on their supportive stance for the sector since the recent government change, though August did bring some volatility to the space.

The portfolio's weight in the out-of-benchmark Communication Services sector negatively impacted portfolio returns over the period. While one of our holdings in this sector delivered absolute positive returns, they lagged the broader infrastructure space.

Recent Developments

Maintaining balanced positioning in the Fund remains a top priority. We are overweight to Utilities and Energy versus the S&P Global Infrastructure Index and are underweight Industrials.

Key Buys

Dominion Energy Inc: We initiated a position in US-based utility Dominion Energy Inc over the period. The company surprised the market with the announcement of a top to bottom strategic review ahead of a regulatory review of their Virginia business. This caused weakness in the shares, which we used as an opportunity to start a position in the name. We believe there is a strong case to be made for the company simplifying their structure and selling off non-core assets, which we believe should lead to a higher rating post the review.

Hess Midstream LP Class A: We purchased Hess Midstream LP, an oil and gas gathering and processing company with exposure to the Bakken Shale formation through its relationship with Hess Corporation. This partnership has steady cash flows supported long-term facility contracts that allow for generous stable distributions back to shareholders.

VINCI SA: During the period, we initiated a new position in French concession business VINCI SA. Toll and airport traffic have remained incredibly resilient, with the benefit of emerging from the Covid-19 crisis offsetting headwinds from higher fuel prices and geopolitical strife. The addition of VINCI SA helps to narrow the underweight in the sector with one of the highest quality and best exposed names in the group.

Key Sells

Atlantia S.p.A: As we are approaching the final date of acquisition of Atlantia, we sold out of the remaining small position that we held in the portfolio.

Naturgy Energy Group, S.A.: This has been one of the most resilient European utilities in the portfolio, due to how well they are positioned in Spain given the current backdrop (as the owner of very high-quality gas assets) and their willingness to engage in value unlocking mergers & acquisitions to split up their business. With a good deal of the value having surfaced already this year, we sold our remaining position in the utilities company and redeployed exposure into better opportunities.

Public Service Enterprise Group, Inc.: We sold electric utility group PSEG after a solid period of outperformance, which made its relative valuation less attractive compared to other opportunities in the sector.

Exelon Corporation: We also sold electric utility group Exelon after the spin-out Constellation Energy. The transaction crystallized a lot of value. As a standalone pure-play nuclear business, Constellation will benefit from recent legislative support in Illinois. The company's zero-or low-carbon profile will only enhance its standing during the wider energy transition period. Exelon is now a fully regulated utility, and the shares rallied to narrow their valuation discount with other regulated peers.

Constellation Energy Corporation: We sold our position after the shares surged nearly 40% since the nuclear energy pure play's spin-out from regulated electric utility group Exelon in January 2022. Investors have acknowledged the company's unique and attractive asset profile, as the US pushes an aggressive energy transition path toward low- or zero-carbon energy sources.

From our perspective, the outlook for the global infrastructure sector continues to remain positive, and we are witnessing inflation effectively passing through these revenue models. With higher borrowing costs flowing through regulated business models, we continue to believe that this area remains unique in its ability to mechanically pass through these pressures. The energy transition remains in focus, and we see the greatest opportunity for value creation in this area within Europe. Having gone through another quarter of earnings reports, we continue to see these inflation passthrough mechanisms play out in earnings.

On April 30, 2022, the Fund's independent review committee (the "IRC") was reduced to three members when Robert Martin resigned as IRC member. On May 1, 2022, the Fund's IRC was increased to four members when Line Deslandes was appointed as IRC member. However, on September 30, 2022, the Fund's IRC was reduced to three members when Line Deslandes resigned as IRC member.

On May 20, 2022, NBI discontinued the purchase offering of deferred sales charge and low sales charge purchase options for all new investments, including purchases made through systematic plans in all Canadian jurisdictions. Investors who purchased units under these sales charge options will continue to be subject to the redemption fee schedules under which they were purchased.

The performance of each series of the Fund is presented below and calculated as at December 31 of each year. It assumes that all distributions made in the periods shown were reinvested in additional securities and does not take into account sales, redemption charges, distributions, or optional charges that would have reduced returns. Past performance of a series of a Fund does not necessarily indicate how it will perform in the future.

^(*) Excluding sales commissions paid on the Advisor Series, Series H and Series T5 with low sales charges option and deferred sales charge option, which are not paid for out of the management fees.

 $^{^{(^{\}circ})}$ Please note that this Series is offered by way of private placement.

- (1) This information is derived from the Fund's Annual Audited Financial Statements. The net assets per unit presented in the financial statements might differ from the net asset value calculated for fund pricing purposes. The differences are explained in the notes to the financial statements.
- (2) Net assets and distributions are based on the actual number of units outstanding at the relevant time. The increase or decrease from operations is based on the average number of units outstanding over the accounting period.
- $^{(3)}$ Distributions were paid in cash or reinvested in additional units of the Fund, or both.
- $^{(4)}$ The net assets are calculated in accordance with IFRS.
- $^{(\!s\!)}$ This information is provided as at the last day of the accounting period shown.
- (6) Management expense ratio is based on total expenses including sales taxes for the accounting period indicated (excluding commission, other portfolio transaction costs and withholding taxes) and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net value during the accounting period.
- (7) The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the accounting period. The trading expense ratio includes, if necessary, the trading expenses from its underlying funds, as described in Article 15.2 of Regulation 81-106.
- (8) The Fund's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the Fund portfolio's manager manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the accounting period. The higher a Fund's portfolio turnover rate in an accounting period, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the accounting period, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the accounting period. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and the performance of a Fund.
