Management Discussion of Fund Performance

Investment Objective and Strategies

The NBI Active U.S. Equity ETF's investment objective is to provide long-term capital growth. It invests, directly or indirectly through investments in securities of other mutual funds, in a portfolio comprised primarily of common shares of U.S. companies.

The ETF's investment process relies on a bottom-up, fundamental-driven investment approach. Securities chosen to compose the portfolio are growth-oriented companies with significant barriers to entry and first-class management teams. In-depth knowledge of companies allows the portfolio sub-advisor to manage risks by not relying on extended diversification, but rather on a quality over quantity selection. The portfolio sub-advisor uses a proprietary sustainability scorecard to evaluate companies across six pillars (Planet, People & Society, Governance, Productivity & Partnerships, Operations, Disclosure) and a minimum score is required in order to be considered for investment.

Risks

The global investment risk of the ETF remains as described in the simplified prospectus or any amendments thereto and ETF Facts.

Results of Operations

For the twelve-month period ended December 31, 2024, the NBI Active U.S. Equity ETF's units returned 23.78% compared to 36.36% for the ETF's benchmark, the S&P 500 Index. Unlike the benchmark, the ETF's performance is calculated after fees and expenses. Please see the Past Performance section for the ETF's returns, which may vary mainly because of fees and expenses.

The Fund's net asset value rose by 161.47% over the period, from $25.14 million as at December 31, 2023 to $65.73 million as at December 31, 2024.

The increase stemmed mainly from unit purchases by investors in the Fund and market fluctuations.

U.S. stocks advanced strongly during 2024 completing their largest two-year gain in more than a quarter century. This amid loosening monetary policy, moderating inflation and a relatively strong economy throughout the year in anticipation of November Presidential elections. The Federal Reserve shifted to easing mode in the third quarter, initiating a series of cuts which added liquidity as the year drew to the close.

Relatively low oil prices (which have not kept pace with the CPI in recent years) put downward pressure on input costs. U.S. markets also reacted well to the announcement of the Elon Musk led "Department of Government Efficiency" (DOGE) which is expected to decrease regulations in sectors ranging from energy to digital assets.

Bellicose rhetoric by President-elect Donald Trump surrounding issues such as the sovereignty of Canada, Greenland, and the Panama Canal—possibly in preparation for trade negotiations during the coming year—fanned volatility amid a wide variety of U.S. international partners.

In this context, the Fund underperformed its benchmark.

U.S. political factors could add to existing inflationary drivers such as aging demographics, a labour force reassessing its work/life balance, and regionalization trends. Consequently, the investment team focuses on business models that have strong pricing power.

The uncertainty surrounding changes in supply chains, consumer behaviours, digitization, AI impacts and rising wages will have a lasting impact on business models.

The Portfolio Manager continues to see relative valuation dislocations caused by rapidly shifting market narratives that are offering compelling opportunities to book profits and reinvest in misunderstood and therefore mispriced stocks.

Past Performance

The performance of the ETF, presented below and calculated as at December 31 of each year, is based on the net asset value of the ETF. It assumes that all distributions made in the periods shown were reinvested in additional units of the ETF. These returns do not take into account sales, redemption charges, distributions, or optional charges that would have reduced returns. Past performance of an ETF does not necessarily indicate how it will perform in the future.

⁽³⁾ Net assets and distributions are based on the actual number of units outstanding at the relevant time. The increase or decrease from operations is based on the average number of units outstanding over the accounting period.

⁽⁷⁾ The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the accounting period. The trading expense ratio includes, if necessary, the trading expenses from its underlying funds, as described in Article 15.2 of Regulation 81-106. Data for periods prior to 2023 have been restated.

⁽⁹⁾ Closing market price on the last trading day of the year as reported on the TSX.
