

Canadian financial institutions are required to collect the information contained in this form and related to your tax residency to open and maintain a financial account. If you have a tax residency in a country outside of Canada or if you're a US citizen or US resident we may be required under Part XVIII and XIX of the Income Tax Act to report your financial account's information to the Canada Revenue Agency (CRA) who may share this information with the government of a foreign country of which you are a resident for tax purposes, or to the U.S. government if you are a US citizen or US resident. If this is the case, you can ask your financial institution the nature of the information it has provided.

In the case of a joint account, each holder must complete a separate CRS-FATCA self-certification form.
If you need help to complete this form regarding the information related to your residence, please consult a tax advisor.
